FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

AMI ASSET MANAGEMENT PROMOTES PORTFOLIO MANAGER

Los Angeles, CA – December 5, 2017 – Andrew Zamfotis has been promoted to the position of Portfolio Manager. He will continue to work on AMI Asset Management’s Small Cap Growth, Large Cap Growth and SMID Cap Growth strategies.

Previously, Mr. Zamfotis served as a Senior Equity Analyst for the firm where he covered the Technology and Consumer Discretionary sectors. Prior to joining AMI, Mr. Zamfotis was a Senior Analyst at EVA Dimensions, an equity research firm focused on economic profit based models whose clients manage over $100 billion in assets. Prior to EVA, he was a Senior Analyst at the long/short hedge fund Legarde Capital Management in New York City. Mr. Zamfotis began his career at the Halyard Capital Fund, a private equity fund where he was responsible for the Fund’s investments into Technology, Media, Internet, and Telecommunications companies. He holds a Bachelor of Science in Finance and Information Systems degree from New York University’s Stern School of Business where he graduated with honors. Mr. Zamfotis is a CFA® charterholder and has been with the firm since 2015.

“Andy has proven to be an invaluable member of our research team since he’s been with the firm,” said Mr. Sessing, the firm’s Chief Investment Officer and the lead portfolio manager for all three equity strategies. “He’s shown great skill at evaluating companies in his sectors of responsibility and he is already heavily leaned upon when contemplating moves within our portfolios.” said Sessing.
